From the President:

Happy Holidays!

I hope everyone is enjoying this holiday season. It has really crept up on me this year. I have so much more to do to try and get ready for the Big Guy and his 4-legged buddies to show up. Aka Santa and the reindeer.

Please remember to watch your points and get back to me as soon as you see something that doesn't look right. The quicker I can get anything corrected, makes the season end so much easier for all of us.

As you get ready to put up the stockings this year, don't forget your very best friend(s). They like to have fun toys and treats too. Just watch the list on what NOT to give them.

From my family to yours, have a wonderful holiday season with friends and family.

Sue

FROM CHAMPIONSHIP COMMITTEE
Valarie Thawley and George Ferrari

All,

It's hard to have to say this but, there will not be an East Coast Championship this year.

With that said, the Championship is open to any region who wants to hold it. You have until December 15 to submit to me an application to host the Championships.

If you're interested in putting on the Championship, contact me for the application. Please fill them out and mail them to me. I need the official form, so that you can be considered. You can email me to let me know that the application is in the mail.

Thank you,

Val Thawley and George Ferrari

Championship Chairs.

BOARD OF DIRECTOR NOMINATIONS

I have been involved with the IWPA as a competitor and a judge since 2009. During this time, I have also previously served on the IWPA board. I truly have the membership's best interests at heart and vow to approach any issues with a clear, clean mindset, from a member's perspective. I believe the organization has some great parts but also some parts that need improvement. I look forward to the opportunity to serve the membership.

Sean Hammell

PULL RESULTS

October in Baxter

Baxter, Tennessee (1196 Bloomington Rd)

Pull: 6 -- Organizer(s): Franklin, Sheryl Wheel on Natural Region: 7

Track: short, damp grass, hard ground giving excellent conditions for dogs to do their best Date: 20-Oct-19

Weather: Cloudy, in the high 60's. Sun came out for novice class, delightful pulling weather Day 1 of 1

Novice class of 8 included a pro puller rehabbing a leg. 2 total newbie's. Our Jr Handler with his Siberian Husky was back. His mom informed me he wanted to help on the cart. He worked with Ian, an experienced cart handler, and did a good job with many pro dogs. One of our newbie's should be going pro next month, incredible progress from the August fun pull to this pull. Harness measuring: better procedure this month for each class, but still a pain (especially on the forms to be sent in)

Which Holiday Plants are Toxic to Dogs?

By Sheryl Franklin, adapted from Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences article

Many people are decorating their homes for the holidays, but pet owners should be aware that some plants used for holiday decorating can be dangerous to cats and dogs. Understanding which plants are toxic, and which are not, can help bring home the festive spirit and avoid danger for pets.

One of the most popular holiday plants often considered poisonous are poinsettias. But in fact, they are “non” to “mildly” toxic and do not deserve their bad reputation. Pets that ingest poinsettias generally have no clinical signs or mild gastrointestinal discomfort. A mild rash may develop if rubbed on the skin, but they are considered safe to keep in the home.

Dr. Dorothy Black, clinical assistant professor at the Texas A&M University College of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Sciences (CVM), explained, “Poinsettias are usually referred to as highly toxic, but they really aren’t. Feel free to display them at Christmas.”

Christmas trees are also generally safe for pets. However, pine needles can cause damage to eyes if pets should run into the tree, such as a corneal laceration. Should pets ingest the sap produced by the tree, mild gastrointestinal discomfort may occur, but natural trees are generally non-toxic for cats and dogs.

Mistletoe, on the other hand, can be quite poisonous to pets. If ingested, pets may experience gastrointestinal upset, or show clinical signs of poisoning such as a change in mental function, difficulty breathing, or a low heart rate.

“If you see these symptoms in your pet and suspect or know they ingested mistletoe, you should seek veterinary assistance as soon as possible,” Black said. “Mistletoe shouldn’t be used where pets could possibly reach it.”

Another holiday decorative plant, holly, can be dangerous for pets and is considered poisonous. Clinical symptoms may be displayed as vomiting, diarrhea, decreased energy, and general upset stomach. Owners should seek veterinary assistance if they suspect their pets of ingesting holly.

Amaryllis is also considered poisonous for pets. If ingested, pets may vomit, appear depressed, or show signs of a painful abdomen and a loss of appetite.

“Some pets who consume amaryllis or daffodils will show symptoms of tremors,” Black said. “This can be a sign of severe toxicity.”

“The more toxic the plant, the more careful you should be with displaying them in your home. While Poinsettias and Christmas trees are generally safe for pets, holly, mistletoe, amaryllis, daffodils, and lilies should be considered quite toxic,” Black said. “Pets should not be allowed to come in contact with poisonous holiday plants, and if they are displayed in the home they should be kept out of reach, and pet’s behavior should be monitored to make sure they do not show symptoms of poisoning.”
