Merry Christmas!

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Terry Reed

Ho Ho Ho, Hello IWPA.

It is December which means we are half way through the season.

In Region 9 it looks like we are taking the month off with no events on the schedule. That's ok because the hustle and bustle of the holiday season can take up a lot of time.

I hope you all take time to spend with family both 2 and 4 legged and enjoy the Christmas Season.

Have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Terry Reed
IWPA President

Together we can build a better IWPA

BOARD NOMINATIONS

Hello IWPA Members,

I'm Diane Krupski, from Michigan Region 6. I've been a member in this organization since 1998! I know seems like a lifetime! I have truly enjoyed this club. I have served on this board before, as well as now. I have loved making friends far and near along the way. Please consider me again to serve you and let your voices be heard.

Thanks for reading,
Diane Krupski

Hi I'm Stephanie Stoll with region 6. Most of you will remember me as the one from Michigan with Saint Bernards, but I've been honored to have pulled many rescued dogs in many different weight classes over the years. I would like to be considered to serve as an IWPA board member for the next term. I have been appointed to the IWPA Board for the last two seasons, and have served as an elected board member in my earlier years of being an IWPA member. I feel I am able to bring new ideas and different opinions to our board. I have been involved with IWPA for 20 years attending numerous local pulls, several out of region pulls, and many Championships. I have also organized pulls, assisted with organizing pulls, and assisted with our region hosting Championships. I have also gotten my Judging certificate, been chief judge at local pulls, and also been elected for Championship judge in the past. I would love to continue to help this organization grow, and improve. Please consider me for a board member.

Thank You,
Stephanie

Hi I'm Shirley Webber, from Northern MI, region 6. I have been weight pulling since 1994. I began my career of IWPA weight pulling after my mom died and was looking for an activity to fill that void. I attended Kalkaska Winterfest and entered my dog into the weight pull contest and was hooked from that day on. In the past I've been a board member several time, organized pull, hosted Championships, assisted with organizing of Championships, and have my judges certificate. Please consider me for the IWPA board. I feel that I can make a difference and have the ability to see both sides. I will take any concerns to the board that arises from our members.

Thanks
Shirley

Hello IWPA Members,

I was excited to join the IWPA in Jan 2009 after weight pulling since 2004. The IWPA allowed me to expand my pulling opportunities. I am very disheartened at the recent lack of activity in Region 4, of which I am a member and have been for nearly 13 years. As such, I wish to become more active at the organizational level to try to promote and contribute to the organization as a whole. I recently volunteered to be Region 4 representative. I am always willing to help those interested in the sport to get started in it, to work with dogs to help them figure out what the sport is all about and to help their owners work with their dogs. I also hope to become a judging apprentice by the end of the year.

If voted in as a Board member, I will make myself available for questions and concerns, promptly respond to correspondence and do my best to promote the continuance of the IWPA.

Connie Meech
St. Louis, MO.

FROM THE BENCH OF THE JUDGES CHAIR

Terry Reed

This month we will look at Section 4 B in the IWPA Rule Booklet.

Paraphrased in part, this rule states that all entrants are responsible for not only their conduct but the conduct of anyone with them. It further states that disruptive, rude or unsportsmanlike conduct toward animals, officials, handlers or spectators will be cause for disciplinary action and/or disqualification.

That is not to say you cannot disagree with a judges call. But you do need to be respectful in your discussion. It also means be respectful of other handlers and spectators. We all joke around and razz each other at pulls, that's part of the fun. Just be careful not to cross the line. And that line may be ever changing depending on who or when you are kidding around.

Disqualified under this section refers to the handlers not the dog. Being disqualified means you are eliminated from competition.

So, for example, if a person has multiple dogs in the event, but gets disqualified under this section they are no longer allowed to compete that day. Regardless of whether they still have dogs waiting to compete or not.

Another member may handle the dogs but if the DQ'd person continues to be a problem they need to leave the premises.

I hope these monthly articles are helpful.

As always if you have any questions or concerns, please contact me.

Have a Merry Christmas.

Terry Reed

6 Ways to Make the Holidays Less Stressful For Dogs

Adapted by Sheryl Franklin from AKC.org

The winter holiday season is upon us — are you and your dog ready? The holidays can be overwhelming for our canine companions, but they don't have to be! Here are tips that you can utilize to support your dog during the holiday season and make the holidays more enjoyable for you and your dog!

Prep Before Travel

If your holiday festivities involve traveling to the houses of friends or family, be sure to talk with your hosts about what their holiday plans look like and how your dog can and/or can't be incorporated. Knowing your host's rules and expectations for dogs ahead of time — for example, if dogs are allowed on furniture — can allow everyone to have a positive and successful experience.

You should also ask about who else will be attending — both people and other dogs — as well as if there are other kinds of animals in the house. If there will be other dogs, find out if those dogs are social and be honest and realistic about how your dog manages meeting new dogs. Make time to intentionally introduce the dogs outside and away from the festivities to reduce stress, and have a plan for if introductions don't go well such as staying in a hotel, keeping dogs crated in different rooms during meals, etc.

Create a Private Space

Whether at home or traveling, holiday gatherings can be stressful and overwhelming for dogs and things like platters of holiday food can be tempting and distracting for dogs and puppies. It's always a good idea to give your dog some private space to retreat to. Be proactive and give your dog intentional breaks from the festivities to allow them to relax, recharge and then come back to the gathering and continue to be successful. Putting your dog's bed or crate in a bedroom or other quiet area of the home, separate from the festivities, can be helpful. Puzzle toys or food-stuffed toys like Kongs are ideal for giving your dog something to keep them occupied and provide some relaxing mental stimulation. Try to give your dog breaks before they begin getting overwhelmed to keep the holiday positive for everyone. There is no shame in putting your dog's needs first and giving him a 'nap'. This is an especially good idea if you are going to be distracted and not able to give full attention to your dog, like before a big meal is served.

Designate Someone On Duty

It can be easy for dogs to get into trouble if everyone assumes that someone else in the family is watching the dogs. At any holiday gathering, it's helpful to designate at least one person who is going to be responsible for the dog(s). This means there is always someone able to make sure dogs are being successful. If a dog is getting overwhelmed with the festivities, this person can give the dog a break and can make sure the dogs don't get near open doors or into decorations.

Keep Routines Intact

Dogs thrive on routines, and the bustle of holiday activities at home or when traveling can disrupt that. As much as possible, try to keep your dog's routines intact. If you are traveling, make sure to pack your dog's supplies: food, bowls, toys, and of course a crate and bed. Watch how many special treats and snacks you or your guests are giving to your dog and be sure to keep any hazardous treats away. Remember that many of the foods that we love over the holidays can actually be very dangerous for your dog including chocolate and alcohol as well as turkey bones. You'll also want to avoid food like fruit cake or recipes that involve garlic, onions, and raisins. Look out for xylitol always, it can be in baked goods. Even the best-behaved dog can be tempted by the aroma of holiday treats and might be inspired to counter surf or raid a trashcan. It's best that holiday dinner trash is immediately brought outside or kept in a secure trashcan.

Find Dog-Centric Activities

Holidays don't have to just be stressful for your dog, and there are fun ways you can incorporate your pup into the festivities. Finding ways to keep your dog occupied during the holidays can be a great way to spend time with everyone you love. Invite your friends and family to join in your dog's favorite games or walk with you and your dog in the neighborhood or to a local park. Not only will this give you the opportunity to spend quality time with your dog, but keeping your dog physically and mentally exercised is a stress reliever. You can also find fun ways to involve your dog in your traditions by making or buying festive holiday trats or snacks as well as seasonal gifts.

Host a Dog Talent Show

Have you and your dog been training in a new sport or working on new tricks this year? If so, planning a small talent show can be a fun way to center your dog at any holiday gathering. Even just teaching your dog a few simple tricks to show off can be a fun way to channel your dog's energy and impress your friends and family. If there are multiple dogs in attendance at your holiday gathering you can even organize a family trick contest — be sure to have prizes on-hand for the winner!
